"Goodnight Then, Casca: This Disturbed Sky Is Not To Walk In"

A howling storm has been careening around Carmel for the past two days, a rampaging, sometimes ugly visitor, which crashed through the drought-threatening Pacific high pressure barrier like a vandal bent on scandalous mischief. And mischief it has wrought.

On Tuesday night, as it boiled in from the southwest, it might have been an escapade of Shakespeare, setting up the lines of Casca in Julius Caesar:

O Cicero,

I have seen tempests, when the scolding winds / Have rived the knotty oaks, and I have seen The ambitious ocean swell and rage and foam, / To be exalted with the threatening clouds, But never till tonight, never till now / Did I go through a tempest dropping fire. / Either there is a civil strife in heaven, / Or else the world, too saucy with the gods / Incenses them to send destruction.

The destruction has been widespread and indiscriminate. Although better than two inches of rain have whip-lashed across the parched face of Carmel, water has done little damage thus far.

Last night, however, it threatened to. Rising as much as 16 inches in one hour, the Carmel River approached ominously close to a spill-over which would have flooded the Mission Tract in a repetition of last year's inundation. Anxiously watching, Mayor Eben Whittlesey, Fire Chief Robert Smith and other city disaster officials came close, slightly past midnight, to sounding an evacuation alarm. But at that point, the river began to subside, and the alarm was postponed.

With water now pouring over San Clemente Dam at a depth greater than three feet; with the mouth of the river being plugged by an unusually high tide; and with swarming debris clogging the river, evacuation of the homes in the area may yet be called for.

It was the winds, however, slashing fiercely in stupendous gusts, that brought the destruction. Tiles were torn from rooftops and shingles sent flying upon the air. Fences were levelled, signs plucked from their anchors, and branches wrenched from trees.

People, pushing their way along the drenched streets and sidewalks, bent their heads to the furious blasts, sometimes stumbling about in drunken dances, sometimes racing after hats skittering along the pavement, sometimes (Continued on Page Sixteen)

NEAR TRAGEDY

BY JACK MORRIS

Tragedy narrowly missed Wednesday at the Nick Alioti home on Santa Fe near 4th. Uprooted by ferocious winds, a monstrous pine tree crashed through the roof of the newly purchased home just as Mrs. Alioti walked under the point of impact.

The call came in to the Carmel police station at 12:05 when Robert Martin, manager of nearby Rosita Lodge telephoned to say that he had just heard a tree fall onto a house. Officer Ed Fischer was dispatched, to make the dismaying discovery that the house with a huge pine trunk penetrating the roof was occupied by the daughter of his wife, Bonnie.

Merrily Alioti, then Merrily Coggins, was married to Nick in Monterey less than a year ago, and the young couple, striving to carve their niche in the world, bought their present dwelling less than six months ago, to provide a home for the coming twins.

The young bride had earlier in the day investigated a smaller toppled tree in her back yard and was walking from one room to the other when the mammoth hole tore through the roof's ridge pole and through the roof itself, to be stopped only by the partition separating the two rooms.

The damage is extensive and the young couple have been forced to move into a motel until repairs have been effected. A casual estimate of the repair bill figures to more than $2000.

Nick, a fine looking young man of sturdy Italian stock, had a brave smile when questioned. "Boy, are we lucky," he grinned. "Merrily was in just the right place to avoid injury and while her nerves are shook, there is no sign of anything serious." Nick heaved a big sigh. "Hmmm," he muttered, "and with her so close to her time too. Could have been real bad." A Street Department crew, working steadily from 1:00 P.M. until darkness, managed to reduce the tree to manageable proportions, an eight-hour job for three men.

NICK HELPS

Nick, currently unemployed, worked grimly along with the crew.

"Yep," he said, rolling aside a hulking section of log, "those roots appear to have been cut when they built the adjoining house."

He pointed silently to the swelling tap root that had been chopped off about six feet from the base. "They probably hacked it off when they built the sewer line, which weakened it enough so that when the big blow hit, BOOM, down she came."

As he says, "Just lucky, I guess."

Great Rug Robbery

By BADGE 333

Carmel's under-rated police department recently came up with another unheralded coup when two off-duty sergeants, Bob Fischer and Del Wermuth, grabbed a couple of juveniles who had robbed the Peruvian Shop in broad daylight.

BUSINESS

No Theatre

An unusual motion picture theater, darkened without opening, passed ghostlike out of existence this week; at least, the theater designed by George Wilcox for "Bud" Clark, and approved recently by the Planning Commission, did.

United California Theaters has bought out Clark's ground lease. Arnold Childhouse, executive of UCT, which controls every flicker place on the Peninsula, with the exception of D. Kirk Erskine's Hill and Steinbeck, told Clark that his board of directors has "approved the site as a theater site."

This does not, of course, mean that UCT will actually put it to such use. It could have been a prudent long-term investment which, incidentally, banished for the present the unwelcome specter of competition. Clark couldn't say.

GOVERNMENT

No Real Action

No real action was taken on the proposed subdivision of the Robinson Jeffers estate at the last meeting of the Monterey County Planning Commission. Referred to committee for further study, commissioners Keith Evans, Dr. Edward Marcucci, and William Moore will delve into the matter and report their findings to the Commission at the 26 February meeting.

Of course the Carmel Realty Co. and Corum Jackson could proceed with their plan if they chose to develop four lots at a time. Under existing laws a subdivision of fewer than five lots is not subject to subdivision laws.

"But we'll take a couple of months," Mr. Jackson says. "It should take that long to sound out public opinion and permit the Planning Commission to arrive at a decision."

PEOPLE

Right Hand Man

Joe Oenning, former Golden Gloves middleweight contender and Handley's right hand man at Carmel Builders Supply, highly respected as a man and athlete, has just come out of the Community Hospital where he spent a week under observation for an injured right arm. Due to a nerve pinch or some similar disturbance, Joe found himself unable to carry on with the sometimes hard physical labor involved in his daily activity.

Conventioneer

The 62nd Annual Convention and Hardware Show to be held in Brooks Hall in San Francisco's Civic Center will be graced by the presence of Nelson O. Edmonds of the Village Hardware on Ocean Avenue.

Meeting through 10-12 February, more than 7000 dealers from the Western States will join in viewing more than $2,000,000 worth of hardware and allied household items on display by almost three hundred national manufacturers.

That is an awful lot of knives and forks.

Status

Jack Morris defines the difference between a cold and a virus infection: if the doctor and the prescription costs less than $10, it's a cold; anything else is a virus infection.

EVENTS

Lincoln Dinner

A Lincoln Day Dinner, sponsored by the Monterey County Republican Central Committee, and honoring new United States citizens of the county, and those in the process of becoming citizens, will be given 12 February at Exhibition Hall, Monterey Fairgrounds.

The Republican Women's Clubs of Carmel, Monterey Bay, Seaside and Salinas will participate in the event, to which the public is invited. The new and prospective citizens will be guests at the dinner, which will be at 7 p.m., following a social hour at 6. All others will be asked to give a $1.00 donation.

A series of three lectures on "The Ocean" by Dr. Warren C. Thompson of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School faculty began Friday at Monterey Peninsula College.

Dr. Thompson opened the series with a talk on "The Sea Floor," continuing tomorrow with "The Circulation of the Oceans," and to conclude with "The Waves," 8 February.

All three lectures are being given in the library lecture hall on campus at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Dr. Thompson came to the Naval Postgraduate School as an associate professor of aerology and oceanography in 1953, and has been pro-

Medic

With the La Playa Hotel hosting 85 members of the gathering, 450 West Coast doctors belonging to the Western Blood Club will be in Carmel and environs from 30 January to 2 February, according to Dean L. Ireland, resident manager of the hotel.

General meetings are scheduled daily at the Golden Bough Theatre with several papers on diseases of the blood being read at each meeting. The group then splits into small study classes for more intensive work on the subjects that have a bearing upon their particular specialty.

A NEW RED WAGON is not necessarily a Christmas toy nor is Saturday, 19 January, Christmas Day. But the recent appearance on Ocean Avenue of our new Glorious Red Wagon, brimming over with exuberant children — some of them bearing suspicious marks of middle-age — seemed to contradict these points. Carmel had its new fire engine and, with rather a characteristic Carmel flair, the Fire Department was introducing it to the community.

It was a long and romantic reach from the day, almost fifty years ago, on 16 July, 1915, when the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department was organized. At that time the members had to dig deep in their own black jeans for the price of the city's first fire fighting equipment: a ladder, hoses, hand tools and a hand pumper. The first fire house was an old barn.

The new American La France was purchased outright by the city for $27,000 in cash carefully set aside by the City Council during the past five years in a depreciation fund. It was something of a fiscal triumph as well as a major improvement in the public safety strength of city services.

The city took delivery on the shiny new job three weeks ago. Especially designed for this locality, it was built to order by the American La France Co. of Elmira, N. Y., as a carefully thought-out composite of the most desirable features incorporated in the Carmel Valley rig, the Seaside engine and the Carmel Highlands pumper.

With three hundred horsepower under the hood and the capacity to pump better than 1200 gallons per minute, it can roll to the scene of action in a hurry, and has the water volume to smother any ordinary fire. In addition, it is such a superlative piece of equipage that it is actually worth two trucks on the job, according to Chief Bob Smith. It gives double value because when it is called out on a run, it can single-handedly take care of the average outbreak thereby reserving another pumper in case of a second emergency.

The boys are not yet sure just where to hang their hats. "These things take time," says Chief Smith, "and we are feeling our way slowly along. No use boring a hole today and then deciding tomorrow that it is in the wrong place."

The main trouble is not, however, where to hang the hats, but getting sufficient volunteers to wear them. "We could use at least ten more members," says Smith. "If Carmelites realized that without a volunteer Fire Department their taxes might increase on the average about forty-seven dollars a year, and their insurance might triple, they might join up for their own good."

During the last five years the Carmel volunteers have answered almost three hundred fire calls, which means they have donated more than 7,500 man-hours. The fire loss during this period amounted to approximately $40,000, an unusually low figure considering that more than $10,000,000 in property was involved.

The new red engine gifted them by the municipality will make their job easier and also more fun. And it's got to be fun because unless they really enjoyed this harsh, dirty and dangerous work, they wouldn't be out there.

A new red wagon to ride on is little enough for Carmel to do for them. And paid for, too.

Service Station Zone Hearing Staggers About

The gas station overlay was laid over last night. At times it was practically leaned on.

It went back to committee after indecisive probing and poking by the Council, who greeted it with a fanfare of debate, querulous protests from a slim, rain-sodden audience, and all the rest of the dubious stalking which constitutes the usual reception of Planning Commission recommendations.

The principle involved—is an overlay zone the solution to the annoying non-conforming riddle of most service stations?—appeared not to have been recognized; or if it was, it received scant acknowledgement. The hearing proceeded with a gnawing away at details, much brow-knitting over possible numbers of service stations in town, and scant consideration for the three months or more during which the Planning Commission had laboriously plowed probing furrows over the same ground.

An extensive report, a resolution and a proposed ordinance, all prepared by the Commission, were read. From that point on, neither the debate nor its substance seemed impressed by the investigations and analyses the Commission utilized in preparing the documents submitted. It was as if the zone idea emerged last night as a happy but unexpected coincidence.

If it was, the opposition, appeared to be not unprepared for it. J. O. Handley glowered at the Council and threatened that a gas station would appear on every available corner in the business district if the zone were adopted. "We think it a very poor piece of planning," he asserted, closing with a friendly pat on the head for the Planning Commission: "I don't know why the Commission continually comes up with things which are unrealistic for Carmel."

Gunnar Norberg, a former councilman bewitched with the preamble to the zoning ordinance, recited it flawlessly and said, among many other things, that the ordinance "ought never to be enacted," because it was spot zoning and, in a way but vaguely defined, inimical to the residential character of the community.

Dale Leidig, operator of a service station at San Carlos and 7th, saw no reason to change present conditions, because existing stations could rebuild if they required it.

Building Inspector Floyd Adams, quick to rebut, observed that, under the present situation, permitted uses in the C-2 zone, primarily along Junipero, were under more rigid control than the non-conforming stations elsewhere, creating (he implied) not only an absurd advantage but an irrational distinction.

Also, he pointed out, the new zone would reduce from 323,000 square feet to 310,000 square feet the total land available for service stations, much of it—because of restrictive terms of the ordinance—only theoretically usable.

"That's nice," the Council said, as they shooed the matter into committee for a report.

Organizations

The Monterey Peninsula Committee of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. opens its 1963 membership campaign this week.

The Guide Dog program is an expansive one which taps the talents of a variety of community resources—social workers, 4-H members, physicians, dog breeders, and volunteer workers from all walks of life—as well as the specially licensed trainers and staff members at the school itself.

The organization, which covers the 24 western states and Canada, maintains its training facilities near San Rafael, California, and any blind person from this western area may apply for a guide dog. Those applicants who are judged temperamentally and physically suited to use a guide dog are eligible to receive one at no charge.

To assure the happiest combination of guide dog and owner the organization has evolved its own breeding program. All dogs born on the guide dog campus at 3 months of age are farmed out to 4-H children to be raised in a family atmosphere and to learn simple obediences.

At one year of age they are returned to the school, where they begin a 3- to 5-month intensive training period.

At the same time, prospective applicants are screened for character and tested for physical and temperamental fitness before being accepted for the 4-week in-residence training program. At the beginning of this period master and dog are matched according to temperament and size, and then together they begin the rewarding task of learning to live and work productively.

The Guide Dog program annually graduates approximately 125 man-dog units at a cost of $1,850 each, and must count heavily upon its membership contributions for the support and continuance of this work.

The group will climax the current campaign by presenting a fashion show and tea at Del Monte Lodge, 12 February, at 2:30 p.m. A new or renewed membership in Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. will serve as admission.

AFA Officers

The Peninsula chapter of American Federation of Arts held its first board meeting last week to announce new officers and directors for 1963. Recently elected and hold-over members of the board bring its full membership to 21.

Miss Sophie Harpe of Carmel, who served as AFA board chairman when the local chapter was formed, was elected president. Other officers are first vice president Leonard Heller, projects and activities; second vice president Mrs. James T. Duke, Jr., memberships; third vice president Roderick Dewar, legal advisor; treasurer Mrs. Julian von Meier; recording secretary Miss Alice Harwood; and corresponding secretary Mrs. Edward Brady.

Members of the board include Ansel Adams, photography; Mrs. Jess Braucht, Mrs. Pat Carey, workshops; Mrs. Donald Criley, children's activities; Steve Crouch, photography; Dr. William Fitzhugh Jr., exhibits; Mrs. Karl J. Frank, Frederick L. Hofsas, finances; Mrs. Roger Hope, AFA Courier editor; Mrs. William Pringle, special events; Mrs. James Tyson, Frederick Rider, performing arts; and Mrs. Al Wiseman, publicity.

Basketball

The Carmel Varsity Padres looked the worst of the year against one of the best basketball schools in northern California last Friday night, losing by the lopsided score of 62-30 to Gilroy, which is undefeated this year.

The Carmel Lightweights had one of their better nights. They completely dominated the boards, and the shooting of Rich DiLorenzo and Daven Risdon kept the Padres in a commanding position throughout the game. The work of Ed Brown, Peter Braudrick, Roger Ellis, Rick Miller and Larry Thompson was outstanding. No matter what combination was used, the Padres stayed ahead of the Gilroy Lightweights.

The Carmel Junior Varsity fell behind in the first quarter, went ahead in the third, and then was defeated by two points at the very end, to lose 47-45. Bobby Moffatt had the best night of the year as he scored 20, to lead the JV's in that department. Kenneth Wiese is showing more and more improvement and looks to be potentially one of the better players.

In the Varsity game the indecision of movement, poor shooting, and plain non-action by the Padres allowed the Gilroy Mustangs to gather in rebound after rebound and push them right back into the basket. Bob Stuckey, Gilroy's all-northern California nomination had a season high of 30 points, scoring 22 of them in the first half. Gilroy looked like the class of both Leagues as they continued at their apparently unbeatable pace.

One bright spot in the Carmel picture was the play of Steve Johnson. Steve came into the game as a substitute and looked like the only player that would battle Gilroy on any terms. He added four points in a very short time, playing as if the cause he was aiding was anything but a losing one.

On Saturday evening the Padres were host to the league-leading James Lick High School of San Jose, and were the perfect hosts. They lost to James Lick by the score of 65-48. The Carmel Light-weights, less hospitable, won by the score of 34-31.

The Lightweight game was close throughout and the outcome was decided only when Daven Risdon stole the ball and scored a lay-up with 8 seconds left, to wrap it up for the Padres. Pete Braudrick shared high points with Rich DiLorenzo for the first time this year.

The Varsity started out in the same manner in which they finished on Friday evening, and James Lick Comets jumped to a 17-3 lead. The Padres then settled down and decided to play the basketball they are capable of playing and the rest of the ball game was good, although Carmel was unable to catch up with the superb ball handling and exceptionally hot shooting of the high-flying Comets.

Track

Principal Warren Edwards has found a coach for Carmel High's track team, which almost didn't get off the blocks this year for want of a mentor.

Lieutenant Commander Harry Graber, 43 years old, a graduate of Kansas State Teachers College, a top high jumper in 1939, 1940 and 1941, and about to retire from the Navy after 21 years of service, stepped forward after reading about the plight of the high school spikers. "I figured that, if these kids were willing to work, and wanted help, it was a shame that they didn't have a chance to enjoy the sport and prove their worth," he has commented.

Graber's duty will be of some benefit to him, though not monetarily, for he is contributing his services without charge: he plans to go into teaching, and the practical credits of coaching will help him convert his provisional credentials into permanent credentials.

He met with the team candidates this noon. "We will start regular practice on Monday, if the boys are ready to go," he said, "and I think they will be."

Graber lives in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, and is presently stationed at the Naval Air Facility in Monterey.

Sports Cars

BY ED LESLIE

Editor's Comment: This is not a road test, though we wish it were. As Ed says, a Rolls Royce is not a car which is road-tested; it is road-enjoyed. It works perfectly, quickly and without much of anything seeming to happen, leaving very little to report in the conventional sense.

So, Ed gives us here his impressions of the 1963 Silver Cloud sedan which Bob Baird of British Motors in Monterey rolled into Ed's driveway last week. (Don't rush to the window. Bob is not a creature of habit.)

Ed says that he had no preconceptions about whether the car was worth its $16,000 price tag.

ROLLS ROYCE SILVER CLOUD III

The rather high sedan looked heavy, but weighed only 4400 pounds due to use of alloys and aluminum. The finish was a gorgeous silver color; the interior was gray leather and carpet, with birdseye maple dash and window reveals.

I was surprised by the extra leg room provided over an earlier model I'd been in. The hood sloped down a bit to the famous hand-worked stainless steel radiator cover on which is the noted Rolls winged-lady ornament. There is not one single flat surface to the radiator shell, all the many curves being hand-hammered by some of Rolls' most experienced craftsmen.

My attention was attracted by the presence of black-faced controls and dials on the dash, and by the fact that the speedometer runs clockwise from the one o'clock position. I learned that each Rolls now has an hydromatic transmission, built by Rolls under license. It is absolutely trouble free, and couples their great new aluminum V8 engine to the drive line. Engine power is 'way up this year, a full 7%.

Of course, Rolls never releases the original output, so where are you now? We did two 0-60 tests, in normal drive range, in less than 10 seconds and realized performance is superb. Only under full throttle can you hear the deep V8 sound of air entering the carburetors.

The car is as quiet as they say, and people the world over are aware of Rolls quietness. Witness the teenager in the raked 54 tudor that rolled down his window at the stoplight by the Del Rey theatre and cupped hand to ear to try to hear it run. He couldn't!

I played with the upper and lower air conditioning and enjoyed it. I tried the hard ride and soft ride switch and couldn't notice much difference. I drove Los Laureles grade at several speeds; the car was predictable and steady. All in all, I think I would want to drive great distances, if this were my car.

Gradually, as we finished the ride, I became aware of what Rolls Royce quality is. I discovered that to know a Rolls you needn't know the car so much as you need to know about the car. The quality in Rolls is the result of a devotion to quality that governed Henry Royce's life. He imbued a sense of it into every employee. The first car he built in 1905 so impressed a Mr. C. S. Rolls that he devoted his life to the selling of the car, and Rolls-Royce tradition was under way. Henry Royce insisted that inspection and testing of each and every car and part was not to include "every reasonable precaution" but must include "every possible precaution."

Let's mention a few items to aid in realizing why a Rolls is what it is. You might find it hard to believe that such detailed and expensive procedures are still possible in this world's economy, but with the Rolls-Royce and the Bentley, they are. The Rolls is not a Super Car, but its construction is Superlative.

At the plant, part of every shipment of metal is thoroughly lab tested for content of alloy, strength and so forth. All parts to engines, chassis, etc., have a tab of metal to be removed for testing; each piece is catalogued with name of tester and car to which the parts are assigned. A chassis gets a lifetime of testing on a torture rack, and one of every twenty is cut up with a torch, each piece being twisted and torn and analyzed.

Each shock absorber is assigned a car number, then given equivalent to a lifetime of action on a testing rig before installation. Rolls has testing stations in varying climatic conditions, where each shipment of paint is weather tested for 3 months before it is accepted. In all cases, whenever a variance from perfection is found, the entire shipment is returned. An automotive writer reported that he saw 40% of one shipment of connecting rods rejected.

After assembly, a complete engine and gearbox are run on a test block for 30 minutes idle, 30 minutes at moderate speed and 7 hours at full throttle. Further, one engine in twenty is completely torn down and microscopically gone over. Any tiny defect results in the previous 20 engines being taken out of production and rebuilt!

One engine in 50 must run full power for a full 50 hours and undergo tear-down inspection. A defect pulls out the preceding 50.

The finished car will be corrosion-proof, will have 5 primer and bonding coats—some put on hot, cold or baked. Fourteen paintings with hand detailings and oven bakings finish it up.

The leather upholstery is selected matched hides, using the hairy side of the skin where the grain is natural, and only one team of upholsterers may work on that car. The level of workmanship must be standard throughout. Even the back sides of the dash fillets are veneered with finish wood to insure no entry of moisture. All the veneer in a car must come from the same cutting of the same log to assure matched patterns!

A finished Rolls gets six or seven weeks of testing at a separate location, six full days required just for engine fine tuning. Noises are sought out with a stethoscope and any defect or improper "feel" sends it back for redoing. It is quite logical that your new Rolls will be as sought-after thirty years hence, as is a thirty-year-old Rolls today.

It may be that a Rolls Royce is the most economical car you could own, if driven for an extended period. Certainly it is the best car that can be produced. Man tries to meet no higher standards!

TRIGGER HAPPY

BY RICHARD BRUCE

Being the typical "gun nut" that most collectors are, I am always snooping around, hoping to add to my own collection. My wanderings led me into David and Arthur's antique shop on Lincoln Street the other day where I found one of the finest pairs of cased percussion cap duelling pistols I have had the pleasure of seeing in many years. If I am seen walking in the near future it probably will be because I have sold my trusty transportation to become the owner of these rare antiques.

The first handguns—or hand cannons as they became known—were little more than a metal tube, closed at one end, with a small aperture in or near the enclosure. Through this hole a hot wire or glowing coal was introduced to ignite the powder. This type of gun was in use around 1350 and rapidly outmoded the bow and arrow, crossbow and catapult as weapons of war.

There were many drawbacks to this method of firing. The shooter had to be at or near a fire to discharge the weapon; moisture rendered the powder useless and the touch hole had to be seen in order to insert the hot coal or wire, thus making it impossible to aim the weapon.

Improvements came around 1400. A wick was developed with a clamping device mounted on the side of the gun. The wick was of hemp rope, impregnated with a solution of saltpeter and spirits of wine. This wick would hold a coal similar to the punk used to ignite fireworks, enabling the shooter to leave his fire and aim the weapon.

Experimenting with bullets was conducted at this same period and they were made from stone, wood

Letters To The Editor

January 23, 1963

THANK YOU, MR. CROSBY

Dear Bing:

Recently I was solicited by the Monterey Peninsula Herald to join with other mayors of the Monterey Peninsula in purchasing an advertisement in the Herald expressing appreciation to you for the Crosby Tournament and all that it has meant to the Monterey Peninsula. It is against my policy to join in expressions of this nature or to sign public proclamations, but I want you to know that this is not an indication of any lack of appreciation on my part or that of the people of Carmel for the great benefits conferred on this community and the Monterey Peninsula by the Crosby Tournament and by you personally over the last twenty years.

I was a board member and president of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest in the early days of the Tournament when your assistance to the Chest and to the youth activities which it supported was of incalculable value to the Peninsula communities in their efforts to provide for healthy recreation activities for young people.

Your many benefactions to the Carmel Youth Center through the years have made all Carmelites regard you as their personal friend. You have shown not merely generosity, but a genuine friendly interest in Carmel and particularly its young people, and you have done many things which were thoughtful and considerate as well as generous. The opportunity you have given the young people to raise funds by operating the Bingmobiles dispensing refreshments at the Tournament has been of tremendous financial help to the Center and enabled the young people to support their club by a worthwhile activity in which they give full value for what they get and are not merely soliciting charity.

The high standard of sportsmanship and good conduct which has been characteristic of the Crosby Tournament is a source of pride to the community and a reflection of your own sportsmanship and good taste.

Please accept the very sincere appreciation of Carmel for all that you have done here, and its sincere good wishes to you and for the future of the Crosby Tournament.

Very truly yours,

EBEN WHITTLESEY, Mayor
City of Carmel-by-the-Sea★
URBAN FOREST

Dear Sir:

We wish to compliment you for the issue of the Pine Cone devoted to Carmel's urban forest. Property owners must be shown that they can do the most to perpetuate the skyline of Carmel.

While the city has planted and cared for many pines on city property, it can never achieve the results that private property owners could. If each of us would plant a pine in '63, we could begin to refurbish our forest.

Sincerely,

The Carmel Forestry Commission
Robert D. Strum,
Chairman

The Sur Coast

By Elizabeth Fuller Jones

Mrs. Louisa Jenkins of Big Sur, known in many lands for her mosaic art work, is now in the Orient for eight weeks of research in her particular field. She will visit manufacturers and dealers of art supplies in search of special transparent papers to be used in her mosaics.

The week end of 2 and 3 February, the James Chamber Players, Big Sur's foremost indigenous family musical group, will be presented at the Lodge on Saturday evening at 8:30 and Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Twelve and one half acres of rugged land along Highway One at Bixby Canyon was recently accepted by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors as a gift from the Bixby Canyon Properties, Inc. The gift is the second within the last year made in accordance with the county's scenic easement regulations under the Open Space Advisory Committee. The first gift was a 25 acre property in Big Sur.

The area at Bixby Canyon will be preserved for an unobstructed view of the spectacular scenery as travelers approach the Bixby bridge, 15 miles down the coast from Carmel.

A branch of the Monterey County Library is maintained at River Village, Big Sur, and is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Both the Palo Colorado School District and the Captain Cooper School District, at Palo Colorado and Big Sur, respectively, voted within this month to have their school districts annexed to the Carmel Unified School District.

The result of the vote means that as of 1 July, 1963, both of these school districts will go out of existence and will thereafter be under the Carmel Unified School District.

Although residents of these areas will not assume any of the present Carmel schools' indebtedness, they will continue to pay on the Monterey Union High School District bonds which were voted during the time they were a part of the Monterey system.

As a result of the annexation vote, and on the basis of tax rates for this year, Captain Cooper School District residents' school tax will be reduced from $2.98 to $2.95. The Palo Colorado District rate will increase from $2.50 to $2.57.

A CAMEL IN YOUR FUTURE

Our daily life is chaos, and the past seems all confusion, but we can look forward, if the League of California Cities has anything to say about it, to the future with eager expectation. It may be no less parlous than the past, but at least it will be organized.

Among the league committees dealing with aviation, civil defense, elections and finance is one identified as Committee on the Future. Presumably they do not lack for material, but they may not have time to get to all of it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The divine answer to humanity's most perplexing problems will be stressed in a Lesson-Sermon on "Love," to be heard this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Highlighting the Bible readings will be this passage from I John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 340):

"One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself,' annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry, — whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed."

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

Mrs. Paul G. Burns, leadership education chairman of the Northern California-Nevada United Church Women, was guest speaker on Friday at the annual meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Council of United Church Women.

Mrs. Frank Woods, United Church Women area chairman for the region extending from San Jose to Monterey and Salinas, was also present at the meeting, which took place at Hays Chapel, Seaside.

LECTURER TELLS OF SPIRITUAL LAW

What is "spiritual law"? A Christian Science lecturer, Paul Stark Seeley of Portland, Oregon, who lectured at the First Church of Christ Scientist in Carmel on Sunday, called it a "basic force" that "lives in the consciousness of all."

Mr. Seeley, who was introduced by Mrs. H. V. Hopkins, Second Reader, told his audience that we feel this force or law whenever we think in a loving and intelligent way; and it comes from God, "the one universal, causative Mind."

He defined this law by quoting a passage written by Mary Baker Eddy: "The law of God is the law of the Spirit, a moral and spiritual force of immortal and divine Mind" (Miscellaneous Writings,
p. 257). This "spiritual law demands that every individual genuinely love his neighbor as himself," Mr. Seeley declared.

"COMMUNITY" SLATE
FOR WAYFARER

A group favoring community church status rather than Methodist affiliation of Carmel's Church of the Wayfarer was elected last week at the annual meeting of the Church League, the principal membership organization. A second group, contending that the church is subject to Methodist supervision, bases its stand on the grounds that the Wayfarer, founded by the Methodists in 1904, has had only Methodist pastors and that the original church property was deeded
"in trust for the use and benefit" of the ministry and membership of that denomination.

The "community" group maintains that the Wayfarer has grown to its present size (739 members) as a non-denominational church, and that the Methodist organiza-

Everyone Is Happy

Eight-year-old Jane Chalkley, and her brothers, Jay, 6, and Jim, 4, had an inkling that their father, Jack H. Chalkley, of Mesa Drive, Carmel, would be named Outstanding Young Man of 1962 by the Monterey Peninsula Junior of Commerce. But they weren't sure about it until early Friday morning when Janie hopped out of bed shouting, "Did you get it, Daddy?" and was assured that Daddy did.

"The children and I are very proud and pleased," says Jacqueline Chalkley, who, like her husband, graduated from Carmel High School. She and her family came to Carmel in 1939, so she was a Sunset School graduate, too; and now Janie and Jay are students there.

Until November 1961 the Chalkleys lived in Del Rey Oaks, where Jacqueline was involved in P-TA work. Now she is busy with a Brownie troop in Carmel, and likes to bowl and golf in her spare time.

Other family members who are happy about Jack's honor are his mother, Mrs. Lydia W. Chalkley of Carmel; his brother, Bill Chalkley (another CHS graduate) of Sacramento; Jacqueline's mother, Mrs. Ruby Briggs of Del Rey Oaks, and her brother, Carroll Briggs, who also attended Sunset and Carmel High School.

New Member Of Tamarit Crew

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McCormick, of the schooner Tamarit in Monterey harbor, and also of Carmel Highlands, are the parents of a new daughter, Lori Ayn, who was born 21 January at the Community Hospital.

The McCormicks and their two older daughters, Linda, 10, and Toni Jane, 5, lived on board the Tamarit for a year, before moving to the Highlands in November. But they have not forsaken their boat: they are planning a family cruise to the Hawaiian Islands in July.

Lori Ayn's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McCormick of Portland, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ayers of Dallas, Texas.

The Smiths Are Mexico Bound

To San Francisco tonight, and boarding a plane in the morning, Bob and Lili Smith will be in Puerto Vallarta by tomorrow night. They have rented a house on "Gringo Gulch," the bank of the river that flows through the little sea-coast town, where many Americans have built houses—and will be there for two weeks. Then Bob will return to Carmel and Lili will spend a few days in Mexico City, "which, after all these years of going to Mexico, I've never seen."

Lili says that Puerto Vallarta is definitely "discovered" now, "and will be even more since Sports Illustrated wrote an article about it. But there are other undiscovered spots along the coast, looking just as much like Tahiti, and accessible only by boat—which is, of course, why they are still undiscovered."

The Starrs Will Live In Valley

House-hunting in Carmel Valley are Mark Starr and his bride, the former Gerda Kroeger, who were married 18 January in Monterey.

Gerda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Kroeger of Braunschweig, Germany, first came to the Peninsula in 1960 "just for a visit" with relatives. When Carmel attorney Mark Starr stepped into the picture, she changed her plans and remained in Carmel, taking a position at a local bank. Soon they were making wedding plans: Gerda would return to Germany to visit her family, Mark would follow and they would marry in Braunschweig before returning to live in Carmel.

In August Gerda went back to Germany; in December Mark flew there to meet her, and they spent Christmas at the Kroegers' home. But their plans to be married in Germany involved too much red tape. So—after visiting Hanover, Hamburg, both West and East Berlin; a trip to Lausanne, Switzerland, to see Mark's brother, Harold, a medical student at the University of Lausanne; the flight back to New York to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Starr in New Rochelle; a detour to Hanover, New Hampshire, to look at Dartmouth, Mark's college—they returned last week to the Monterey Peninsula ("the best place of all") and were married in Monterey Municipal Court.

In attendance at the 4:30 p.m. ceremony, which was performed by Judge Eugene Harrah, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Figen.

Rosa Visiting In New York

Her husband, Ephraim (Don), and her daughter, Tasha, drove Rosa Doner to the San Francisco airport to catch a Friday morning jet to New York. Rosa, who is director of the cooperative Carmel Parent Nursery School, is on a leave of absence from her young charges to visit friends and relatives in the East; and to spend a two week's observation period at the Bank Street School, training center for nursery school teachers, of which she is a graduate, now a part of Columbia University.

In New York City Mrs. Doner

is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dennis; and Don's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rothgart. She will also be the guest of her brother, Harry Schuster, and his family, in Newport, Rhode Island, her childhood home, before returning to Carmel at the end of February.

In Mrs. Doner's absence, Mrs. Robert Deering is directing activities at the little red schoolhouse on Highway One south of Carmel Meadows.

Married In Las Vegas

Mrs. Mary Purrrington and Clifford H. Cook, both of Carmel, were married 18 January at the Little Chapel of the White Stars in Las Vegas, the Reverend Thomas Daly officiating at the 2 p.m. ceremony. The bride wore a beige knit dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Returning to Carmel on Tuesday of last week, the Cooks were honored the following night at a surprise reception, complete with wedding cake, which was held at the Cypress Club and attended by members of the Order of the Eastern Star following the O. E. S. Obligation Night meeting.

Mr. Cook, a long time Carmelite, is the former owner and publisher of the Pine Cone.

New Son For Sorris

Baby-sitting will be no problem in the Sorri family. Keven Richard Sorri, born 20 January at the Community Hospital, has an 18-year-old brother, Ron, a student at Monterey Peninsula College, and a 17-year-old sister, Sheryl, who attends Carmel High School.

Keven's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Sorri, Jr., of Carmel Hills. His grandfather is Archie Radelet of Seaside, and Mrs. Ethel Davis of Juneau, Alaska, is his grandmother.

THE SUR COAST

Roland Hall, Big Sur artist, and his wife, Irene, are the happy, very proud parents of a son, born in December and named Henry Ferrell Hall.

CHURCHES

Monday's meeting involved a slate of officers presented by the nominating committee of the league (the pro-Methodist group), also a second slate of individual nominations from the floor by representatives of the "community" group.

Dr. Charles N. Pearson was elected over Gordon W. Lundeen for the office of president; James B. Pruitt over Albert Wilson for board chairman. Both Pearson and Pruitt had been nominated from the floor.

Mrs. Walter Burde, as secretary, and Ted Fehring as treasurer, defeated candidates proposed by the nominating committee. Also elected were Fremont W. Slattery, vice president, and Mrs. Gordon W. Lundeen, secretary, both unopposed.

Barker Honors

Henry Miller is probably now eating these words he prefixed to Eric Barker's book of poems, A Ring of Willows: "That he will never get anywhere is certain."

Barker recently won the $1,300 Shelley Memorial Award for 1962.

He was presented the prize at the 53rd annual awards banquet of the Poetry Society of America, held in the Versailles Suite of New York's Astor Hotel recently.

But Miller also wrote in the same preface: "Never will he be anything more than a poet. What a marvelous future! What a luxury!" And about a year before he died, Robinson Jeffers wrote this of Barker's poetry: "There is nothing artificial in it, no tricks, no self-conscious vanity, but the natural man speaking beautifully."

British-born Eric Barker has "worked at practically everything under the sun" in his adopted U.S.A. At sixteen, he journeyed to America from his native village of Thames Ditton in Surrey. After trying unsuccessfully to be a hobo, Barker channeled his energies and talent into a potpourri of jobs—newspaper reporting, construction work, railroading. He also married the well-known dancer Madelynne Greene. And he wrote poetry.

Big Sur poet Eric Barker's other volumes of poetry, Directions in the Sun, and In Easy Dark, were published some years ago.

Barker's verse was so well received that it has won him two Borestone Poetry Awards (1955 and 1957), a medal from the Commonwealth Club of California (1961), and now the Shelley Memorial. His work is included in six Borestone anthologies and has appeared in such magazines as Poetry, Harper's Bazaar, Harper's Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Beloit Poetry Journal, Yale Review, American Scholar, Saturday Review, and San Francisco Review.

In winning the Shelley Memorial, Barker joins such past winners as Theodore Roethke, Karl Shapiro, Robinson Jeffers, Archibald MacLeish, Marianne Moore, and Robert Penn Warren.

Winning Poet

The Next Voices: 1962-63, a poetry reading series running through early summer, will present Pulitzer Prize nominee Jack Gilbert at Ring's Restaurant in Monterey. Presently an instructor for the Advanced Poetry Workshop at San Francisco State College, Gilbert has been hailed as one of this country's finest poets. His reading at Ring's will commence at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Says Voices Producer Richard Barker: "Jack Gilbert has brought back to modern American poetry the precision and humor we have needed for some time. He may well be the most influential poet of his generation. We're very happy to have him for this appearance."

A resident of San Francisco, Gilbert was winner of last year's competition of the Yale Series of Younger Poets. As a result, his book, Views of Jeopardy, was published by the Yale University Press. The title, now in its second edition, sold to more than 6,000 and caused his being nominated for the Pulitzer.

Not To Be Missed

The present showing in the main gallery of the Carmel Art Association should not be missed. Colorful and representative, it features works by two new Association members, "Fisherman," by Bonnie Robinson and "Seascape," by Jessie Quigley. Ruth Buffington, S. C. Yuan, Pat Cunningham, Clarence Bates, Frank Moore and others are represented. "The Garden of Eden," by Harold Landaker, is one fascinating attraction.

Stitchery Witchery

Stitchery, ceramics and sculpture by three noted Big Sur artists are being exhibited at San Francisco's M. H. deYoung Museum, and will continue on display until 24 February.

The stitchery is a color and texture design creation of Margaret Wentworth (Mrs. Nathaniel A. Owings), the ceramics are those by Loet Vanderveen and the stone sculpture is that of Gordon Newell.

WHERE THERE'S LIFE

BY ANDRE HOPE

It has often been said by someone or other that this life is for the birds; in which case I would wish most earnestly to be a cormorant. The cormorants are not only those graceful, black-urn-like creatures which grace our offshore rocks; they are also used by the Japanese fisherman: allowed to dive for the most succulent fish. A collar around their necks prevents them from swallowing some.

As my farewell to San Francisco, I went diving into a restaurant on Broadway called "La Strada," which serves, within my experience, some of the best Italian food I never should have eaten. It is beautifully served, as well, by waiters who are unmistakably proud of their establishment. The wine cellar brings bubbles to the eyes, the decor is succulent enough to eat, and dinner music is provided in an astonishingly wonderful fashion by a young gentleman playing a gently swinging harp. Considering everything, maybe the whole evening could be described as heavenly. Having also had my share (and a few bites of my companion's) of Chinese food, I might add that I found nowhere the unusual cuisine of the Gobi Inn, Carmel's one man Chinatown.

This week is dedicated to austerity and ruthlessness. Being gentle to the point of namby-pamby-ism, I'm going to suggest terrible things. It is pruning time for roses and fruit trees, both flowering and fruit-bearing. There are books and books on the subject, but with roses one simple formula seems to suffice for me. Prune anything the size of or smaller than a pencil in diameter to within one-quarter inch of the bud (the growth bud, not the flower bud). Try to choose buds going in the direction you want the bush or tree to go. (This does not apply to climbing roses.) Pull off the leaves and burn them; some may be diseased. Use a dormant spray on bushes — band-aids on scratched hands after this operation. Pruning fruit trees, remember not only to cut them back to the shape that you desire, but to prune to allow for sun down through the centers so that all fruits and flowers will receive the same amount of sun and mature equally. Concerning flowering trees, you may have achieved a proper cut-back when you reaped them for house arrangements; but still abide by the same principles — they tell me.

While being brutal, you may as well apply the same technique to the house: rid yourself of the excess goop. This smarts. Just view it as losing household weight. Might as well remove it now. Helps with the spring cleaning when you don't have to dust under and around and over it, nor move it from one place to the other wondering what to do with it next.

THEATRE

Carmen

A recent performance of Carmen at River School was reviewed by the Pine Cone's discerning elementary critic. For observant, crisp and yet compassionate appreciation it is unexcelled:

"The play wasn't too good. When Carmen died, she giggled. When Don Jose stabbed her, he laughed. The gypsies giggled when Carmen died because they were excited and stuff."

"It" may include books, magazines, records you have neither read nor heard for years; bits of brittle-brac foisted on you by Aunt Gurf or Uncle Vague, the purpose of which still eludes you; impulse buys which were either antique or cheap and turned out to be neither; or those endless "make-do's" or "someday-I'll-find-a-use-for-it's". In other words, if it's an "it," it's out! These never need be a total loss. One piece might be exactly what a friend of yours has always wanted. (Just be sure it wasn't a present from him in the first place.) Others may be sold or traded for an object you really want. Charity groups can always turn these into profit. And when you're finished, there's a whole, fresh, new household world just waiting for you, Spring, and inspiration.

Spanish Award-Winner

"Death of a Cyclist," Juan Bardem's award-winning film about the idle rich in Spain, will be shown at Monterey Peninsula College in two screenings Friday, 8 February.

Curtain times in the music hall on campus will be 7 and 9 p.m. Free tickets may be picked up at the college's administration building beginning Monday.

Called by a Saturday Review critic "one of the most original, earnest and fascinating imports for a long time," the 1955 film won for Bardem the International Critics' Award at Cannes—and a term in jail.

Spoken in Spanish, with English titles superimposed, "Death of a Cyclist" is described as "a pitiless exposure of corruption in Madrid's wealthy upper class."

The automatic toothbrushes, it seems, have a basic motor unit and come with a selection of removable brushes. A Carmel wife has carefully labelled each brush. One is marked "Hers," another is marked "His." A third is marked "Anybody's" about construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor. If a subcontractor is not specified by a contractor, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such work himself, and he shall not be permitted to subcontract that portion of the work except under conditions hereinafter set forth.

8. SUBSTITUTION OR TRANSFER

No contractor whose bid is accepted shall, without consent of awarding authority, either substitute, assign or transfer any person as subcontractor in place of one so designated originally, or sublet or subcontract any portion of the work as to which original bid did not designate a subcontractor. Subletting or subcontracting any portion as to which no subcontractor was designated shall be permitted only in case of public emergency or necessity, after a finding in writing as a public record of the awarding authority.

9. ACCEPTANCE OR REJECTION OF BIDS

The Board of Education of the Carmel Unified School District reserves the right to accept the lowest responsible bid or reject all bids submitted. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after date set for opening.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Wednesday, February 27, 1963, at the hour of 10:30 o'clock a.m., at the entrance to the City Hall of the City of Carmel, California, located on the east side of Monte Verde Street between Ocean Avenue and 7th Avenue, PETER J. CROSBY, JR., as Substituted Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, County of Monterey, State of California, described as:

Lot Numbered 2 and the Northerly twenty (20) feet of Lot Numbered 4, in Block Numbered 62, as said Lots and Block are shown on that certain map entitled, "Carmel City, Monterey County, Cal., Surveyed by W. C. Little, April 1888," filed for record May 1, 1888, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Monterey, State of California, in Volume 1 of Maps, "Cities and Towns," at page 52.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by WALTER E. CULVER and VIVIAN H. CULVER, his wife, as trustor, to COAST COUNTIES INVESTMENT COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of THOMAS N. BARROWS and JANE S. BARROWS, his wife, as Joint Tenants, as beneficiary, which said deed of trust was recorded in the office of the County Recorder of Monterey County, California, on November 30, 1961, in Book 2207 of Official Records at Page 321.

PETER J. CROSBY, JR., was duly substituted as trustee under said deed of trust by instrument recorded in the office of the County Recorder of Monterey County, California, on September 27, 1962, on Reel 99 of Official Records at Page 299.

Purchaser shall pay for revenue stamps on trustee's deed.

Dated: January 11, 1963.

ORGANIZATIONS

Art Assoc.

Leslie Emery, former member of Carmel's police force and now a widely known and successful artist, will officiate as chairman of the Hanging Committee when the Carmel Art Association opens its new show on 6 February.

The new Board of Directors of the Art Association will hold a meeting at 7:30 P.M. on 11 February.

Town House

Mrs. George Porter, who homesteaded in Montana, will tell of her pioneering experiences in a talk entitled, "It Happened on a Vacation," at Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. All interested persons are invited to the meeting and to the tea following at 4 p.m.

Reservations are now being taken for the monthly luncheon at Town House on Monday, 11 February.

Citizens Committee

The Carmel Citizens Committee will hold its annual meeting, and also a dessert party, at Fellowship Hall, Church of the Wayfarer, Lincoln and Seventh, Monday at 7:30 p.m. "Carmel's Future," with a presentation by Gordon Hall of the Monterey Peninsula Preliminary Area Plan, will be the principal topic of the evening.

Heart Fund

The Heart Fund benefit cocktail party, given annually by the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Association, will take place Sunday at the Beach Club, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

The price of a ticket is $2.50, and all proceeds from the "Hour and a Half for Two and a Half" will go to the Heart Fund, as the hotel men donate the ingredients for the party, also their services as bartenders.

Paul Reed of Highlands Inn, president of the association; Bruce Locken of Casa Munras and William H. Hubbard of Del Monte Lodge, are arranging the event.

Chefs of the participating hotels (Highlands Inn, Casa Munras, Mark Thomas Inn, San Carlos Hotel, La Playa Hotel, and Del Monte Lodge) will create an array of unusual hors d'oeuvres, which will be judged by "Rawhide" Star Clint Eastwood, Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mrs. Jimmy Hatlo, Mrs. Allen Griffin, Mrs. Marvin T. Londahl, and Lawrence Pollard, mayor of Monterey.

Tickets for the party, on sale at the Mark Thomas Inn, Casa Munras, Highlands Inn, San Carlos Hotel, La Playa Hotel, and Del Monte Lodge, will include free admission through the 17-Mile-Drive gates to the Beach Club.

Woman's Club

A travel film of East Asia, "The Road to Mandalay," made by Curtis Nagel and William Moore, will be shown at the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m. Mr. Nagel and Mr. Moore are well-known to club audiences, having already shown several films here.

Scenes of Singapore, Bangkok, Rangoon and Mandalay will include temples, Burmese dancers, Chinese opera, elephants at work, Thai fencing and the Thailand floating gardens.

Philatelists

The Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Carmel High School faculty room. John Lindley, of Boston, will talk on stamps of Switzerland. The public is invited.

Honor Band

Students selected from the Carmel High School band to participate in last Saturday's honor band concert at Pacific Grove High School were Diana Farr and Ruth Ann Botten, clarinets; Lance Baird, baritone horn; Jim Purvis, French horn; Dave Harris, trumpet; Kenneth Friddle, sousaphone; and Susan Gutzman, percussion.

Approximately 130 students from 12 high schools performed in the honor band under the auspices of the coast counties section of the California Music Educators. Conductor was Russell S. Howland, professor of music at Fresno State College, and first oboe player with the Fresno Philharmonic Orchestra.

High Twelve

Carmel High Twelve Club will meet tomorrow noon at the Masonic temple. The Reverend John T. Ledger will speak on "Timely Topics."

All master Masons and sojourners are invited to attend.

Kiwanis

At last Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Carmel Kiwanis Club, two Carmel High School students, Carl Buerger and Carlin Arriola, in their first public appearance, entertained members with a banjo and guitar program including folk songs, barbershop, and an original arrangement, set to basic rock and roll chords, of Lewis Carroll's "Jabberwocky."

Two bedrooms with wardrobe closets a dining room, livingroom with open beamed ceiling, tiled kitchen with turquoise range & refrigerator, separate garage with work-shop unit, complete fencing, and private patio. A good value at $26,500 which includes draperies and equipment.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS WITH SPECTACULAR VIEW: One of the coast's traditional homes, this property is unique because of its setting, and valuable site. Once the home of a famous writer, the residence retains its Old World atmosphere, yet offers a completely modern kitchen, tiled bathrooms, and central heating. The spacious livingroom features a superb view of the ocean, plus a delightful garden vista. The diningroom has access to a wing suitable for guests or separate family unit; a studio adjoins the storage building. The flexible floor plan provides for five or six bedrooms and a den. To settle an estate, the price has been recently reduced to $89,500.

CARMEL POINT LISTINGS are hard to find, but we have one that is vacant and ready for an offer. In excellent condition and planned for minimum care, this two-bedroom home includes 1½ baths; a compact, cheerful kitchen; a special dining area with shoji screen background; livingroom with beamed ceiling and sunny exposure; and a charming garden centered by a pine of exceptional beauty. Range, refrigerator, and dishwasher included in sale price.

WE SOLICIT A LISTING ON YOUR COMMERCIAL OR INCOME PROPERTY OR MOTEL

WE FIND THAT BUYERS for this type of property will place their confidence with well informed, experienced, real estate professionals rather than do their own shopping.

WE ADVERTISE and we aim to use advertising in appropriate markets which will place your property before interested buyers in a competent manner.

WE BELIEVE that the mountain does not come to Mohammed in this area, so we advertise in the Wall Street Journal, The Fresno Bee and other San Joaquin Valley papers, in Sacramento and San Francisco and Los Angeles and New York, The Investor and The Saturday Review, in hi-fi bulletins and trade periodicals. We have an office in Fresno, also.

WE FOLLOW UP inquiries from serious buyers with carefully prepared photo brochures and complete, accurate data, and with telephone calls and out-of-town visits.

YOU CAN DO IT YOURSELF. You can build your own boat and Cadillac, you can bind up your own wounds, you can try your own legal cases. But if you have income property to sell, you might give us a try. It costs you nothing unless we succeed in presenting an acceptable deal.

 and all known metals, including gold and silver for special events. Bullets were cast in all shapes from pyramidal to rhomboidal. Finally, in 1600 or thereabouts, the round ball of lead became almost universal.

At about the same time that the lead ball was adopted, it was decided that if efficient guns were to be made, some means had to be developed to ignite the powder, other than the glowing coal. Thus came the flint and steel mechanisms that operated much like the present cigarette lighter, throwing a shower of sparks into the powder charge.

This method was used in various complicated devices until the early 1800's, when breech loading devices replaced the muzzle loaders. By 1870 all of the breech loading mechanisms had been invented: the bolt action, rolling block, dropping block, trap door, tip down barrel and revolving cylinder.

Next week we will discuss a modern handgun that has been manufactured only during the past six years, and is commonly known affectionately among "gun nuts" as "Maggie."

"Goodnight, Then

staring helplessly at collapsed umbrellas.

But it was the trees that suffered the most. Thrashing and moaning under the onslaught in the distraction of some great lament, they fell in profusion, striking houses, crashing on the streets and clattering yards and walks with their corpses.

Telephone and electric wires were wrenched loose by their fall, tumbling into hot, tangled masses which crackled and arced malevolently in the streets.

City and utility crews, working under wretched conditions, struggled to keep streets cleared, and service to stores and homes in operation. At best it was a losing task. Numerous service outages occurred Wednesday. People became fascinated with the winking and dipping lights which indicated another tree down, another tangle of wires in the street somewhere. They shopped and dined and went about the chores with an urgency that feared some sudden interruption of their pursuits. And sometimes it happened.

Ovens, washing machines, gasoline pumps, adding machines and cash registers, freezers, telephones and television sets, flickered off, cooled down and stuttered to an abrupt halt, bringing confusion to our electro-mechanical way of life.

Traffic, diverted by busy police from its accustomed routes, wandered aimlessly and unfamiliarly around side streets, picking its way to some confused destination. At times, Ocean Avenue, San Carlos, Santa Fe, Guadalupe, Scenic and Santa Lucia were closed to traffic.

Scenes and episodes occurred, and keep occurring, as the slashing 50-mile-per-hour gusts carouse through town.

With power off all over, the P G & E on Dolores was happily displaying a sign of a man in bed under an electric blanket, "Warm From Nose To Toes." Not today, Lloyd.

The Harrison Memorial Library looked like a launching pad for a while, as the winds gleefully flung tiles off into space.

Hugh Smith clung to the top of a writhing, flailing fifty-foot pine on San Carlos and 13th, cutting it back to reduce the risk of its blowing over.

A man at a motel on Dolores street patiently swept pine needles and leaves, while the wind continued to crash around, flinging rain and more pine needles on his back and over the places he had swept.

The rain gauge in the Pine Cone press room measured eleven inches.

The paper went to press with the full storm story unwritten, except upon the littered and disheveled countenance of the village.

Great Rug Robbery

spotted a 16-year-old lad strolling casually out of the arcade near I. Magnin's. Upon reaching the sidewalk he shifted a hairy bundle under one arm and started off briskly down the street towards a red Mercury parked nearby.

A quick consultation with Officer Wermuth resulted in a partial identification of the car, which was followed to the beach area at the foot of Ocean Avenue, where the lads were questioned and the car searched. One boy was drunk to the point of incoherency and the other not much better.

They had stolen two bottles of fruit brandy from a local liquor store, went surfing for an hour (where they could have been picked up for drunken surfing), then returned uptown to steal four white rugs valued at $22.50 each, three pairs of shoes at $14.95 each, one pair of house shoes at $7.95 and a pair of after-ski boots at $8.95, a total of more than $150.00. A nice haul for a pair of drunken sprouts, if they had gotten away with it.

Certainly carelessness allowed this performance, which could have proven expensive but for the alertness of the two officers.

After submitting signed statements the juveniles were turned over to their parents, and it is our wish that they were once more turned over, but good.

AFA Officers

Retiring from the board are Mrs. Charles Simpson, Miss Barbara Burdick, and Mrs. Thomas M. Bunn.

Mrs. Jess Braucht, 1962 president, was presented with a gold emblem, incorporating the AFA "bird" within a circle, especially designed and made for her. Mrs. Braucht will act as full time curator for the chapter's headquarters gallery in Carmel.

The first event planned by AFA during 1963 will be the Beaux Arts Ball, "Exotica Tropicana," on 9 February.

Memberships in the organization are being accepted at headquarters, and anyone interested in the visual arts is cordially invited to join. Information about AFA is available by calling MA 4-2918.

"Exotica Tropicana"

Mrs. Hugh Dormody is general chairman of the second annual Beaux Arts Ball, fund-raising event of the American Federation of Arts, which will take place on Saturday, 9 February, at the Exhibition Hall, Monterey Fairgrounds.

This year's theme is "Exotica Tropicana," with calypso and Latin music, tropical flowers, and the over-all illusion of islands-in-the sun. Lucille Ray is ticket chairman for the ball, which will begin at 9 p.m. A grand march, and the awarding of prizes for the most exotically tropical (or tropically exotic?) costumes will take place at 10:30. Special dances during the evening have been arranged by Dale Lefter, Peninsula dance instructor. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hope are in charge of decorations; and Mrs. Hans von Richter, of tables. Each table will be supplied with Carmel Lodge No. 680, F. & A. M., will hold a stated meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. following dinner at 6:30 p.m. All master Masons and sojourners are invited to attend.

PEDESTRIANS

Pedestrians should be loved. Pedestrians make up the greater part of humanity. More than that — its best part.

Pedestrians have created the world. It was they who built cities, reared many-storied buildings, put through canalization and the water system, paved the streets and lighted them with electric lamps. It was they who spread culture throughout the world, devised printing, invented gunpowder, flung bridges across rivers, deciphered Egyptian hieroglyphics, introduced the safety razor into common usage, destroyed the slave trade, and determined that one hundred palatable, nourishing dishes may be prepared out of soya beans.

And when everything was ready, when our native planet had assumed a comparatively well-ordered appearance, motorists appeared.

Foreign Policy Lecture

Tomorrow night (not tonight, as the Pine Cone erroneously reported last week) is the date of the meeting of the World Affairs Council at which Dr. Graham H. Stuart will speak on "Who Makes Our Foreign Policy?"

It will be held in the Carmel High School cafeteria at 8 p.m., and will be open to the public without charge.

Professor emeritus of political science at Stanford University, Dr. Stuart is a graduate of Western Reserve University, received his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin, and did additional graduate work at L'Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques in Paris. He has lectured at many American and European universities, served as adviser to the United States Consul General in Tangier, Morocco, and is the author of several books on foreign affairs.
